Wrap Up and Questions

Matt Prestegaard
Director, CIBMTR IT, Minneapolis
Key Take-aways

• Innovative solutions are being developed to address the common problem of data management and transmission

• It’s in our collective best interest to align these ideas towards a common set of approaches, principles and standards in order to:
  – Avoid duplicate data entry
  – Meet the increasing and evolving needs of data capture
  – Ensure capture of high quality data
Key Take-aways

- HL7 FHIR holds promise as a standard means of data acquisition from EMRs and other source systems
  - CIBMTR is actively pursuing pilots in this direction

- The concept of AGNIS (electronic data submission to CIBMTR) will continue, but needs to evolve to alleviate current pain points:
  - Forms revision / change management, return on investment, completeness
  - A key component of this is CIBMTR’s ability to accept submission of data outside of the forms context (currently piloting)
This Meeting Going Forward

• Tighter collaboration with ASBMT Informatics
  – Ensuring an opportunity to report on important activities
  – Working together to construct future agendas

• Abstracts
  – New this year – would like to continue
  – Engaging ASBMT Informatics on the abstract review

• Trying to hit the topics of interest to the community
  – Cellular Therapy Data / Workflow Management
  – Lowering the data management burden w/o sacrificing quality
    • Given the pace of change in our field, the status quo is untenable
  – Leveraging data standards to improve interoperability
  – Analytics
This Meeting Going Forward

• Trying to address how / where vendors fit in
  – And how they may contribute to lowering the data management burden and meeting the needs of the Centers
    • EMRs and the HCT software vendors

• Ongoing initiatives of the CIBMTR, ASBMT Informatics Subcommittee and Centers
Materials and Thanks

• Session Evaluation
• Global Registration ID (GRID) and AGNIS Flyers
• Thank you to all those who:
  – Submitted abstracts
  – Presented today
  – Contributed to the agenda
  – Attended this meeting
  – And those who organized this meeting
